Norbert Wiener
1894–1964

by P.R. Masani

1990 Birkhäuser Verlag
Basel · Boston · Berlin
Contents

System of Referencing and Notation ........................................ 12
Acknowledgment ................................................................. 13

1 Prologue .................................................................................. 15
C) Scope and focus. D) Poetry, prose and mathematical symbolism.
E) Policy as to mathematical usage.

2 Count Tolstoy and Wiener’s Father .......................................... 29
Solomon and Leo Wiener. The gift of tongues. Tolstoyan conversion and arrival in New Orleans. Mutualistic communities in the 1880s. Leo’s “Mark Twain” characteristics: “the Russian Irishman”. Marriage and family. Professorships at Missouri and Harvard.

3 New England and Wiener’s Early Training, 1901-1905 .......... 34
Norbert’s Cambridge home. Early biological curiosities. Peabody School and Leo’s tutelage. The “avenger of blood”. Infantile maladroitness and threat of myopia. Old Mill Farms and Ayer High School. Love for the democracy of the New England town.

4 Harvard and Wiener’s University Training, 1906-1913 .... 39
A) An eleven-year-old freshman at Tufts College. B) A semester in zoology. C) The “black year” at the Sage school of philosophy. D) The return to Harvard.

5 Bertrand Russell and Wiener’s Postdoctoral Years,
1914-1917 ........................................................................... 45 and logical empiricism. D) Wiener’s philosophical activity. E) Columbia and its word-minded philosopher (1915). F) Harvard and the Docent Lectures (1915-1916). G) The unpleasant stint in Maine (1916). Note:
The Peano postulate system.

Slow promotion and resulting competitiveness. Mal-allocation of national income. Margaret Engemann and marriage. Search for positions abroad.

12 Birkhoff’s Theorem and the Consolidation of Wiener’s Ideas on Statistical Physics .......................... 139

13 Lee, Bush, and Wiener’s Thoughts on Networks and Computers .......................... 160

14 Bigelow and Anti-Aircraft Fire Control, 1940–1945 .......................... 181

15 Arturo Rosenblueth and Wiener’s Work in Physiology .......................... 197

16 McCulloch, Pitts and the Evolution of Wiener’s Neurophysiological Ideas .......................... 218
A) McCulloch, the poetic and mathematico-logical neurologist. B) The Note: Structure of the Turing machine.

17 The Cybernetical Movement and von Neumann's Letter, 1946 ................................................................. 239

18 Cybernetics ................................................................. 251

19 The Second Industrial Revolution and its Educational, Economic and Social Challenges ........................................... 272

20 Wiener on Global Policy and Military Science; von Neumann's Position; Science and Human Welfare. . . . . 295

21 Wiener's Excursion into the Religious Domain ............... 318 long-time State. The mandate from heaven. F) Sin grows with doing good: Tragedy and catharsis. G) Rational Logos, or rational and altruistic Logos?

22 Wiener's Literary Predilections and Initiatives.
   His Concept of Art ........................................ 335

23 Wiener, the Man and the Teacher:
   Authenticity and Prejudice in his Attitudes and Writings .. 349

24 Epilogue ...................................................... 366

Academic Vita of Norbert Wiener .................................. 371
Doctoral Students of Norbert Wiener ................................. 375
The Classification of Wiener's Papers ................................. 376
Bibliography of Norbert Wiener .................................... 377
Defense Department Documents .................................. 391
References .................................................................. 392
Name Index ............................................................... 400
Subject Index ............................................................ 407
Photograph Index and Credits ........................................ 415